

Music Policy

(Ratified by School Council August 2021)

PURPOSE:

To provide a supportive Music program based on our school’s guiding statements. Research based evidence shows that learning music contributes to students’ brain development and the inclusion of music in the curriculum has been found to improve student performance in other areas, including literacy and numeracy. Music and music education also have the power to significantly benefit student wellbeing and the development of confidence.

GUIDELINES:

The music program includes core lessons for all students as well as optional ensembles and/or other music based programs and opportunities for selected students. The program should build musicianship in all students, taking into account the broad range of musical experiences that students have outside of the school program.

IMPLEMENTATION:

Timetabling

Each class is timetabled to have one hour per fortnight of Music with the Specialist Music teacher. Some ensembles are timetabled during normal class time for one or two hours per fortnight and students are provided with the opportunity to participate in these programs in addition to their timetabled class session. Additional ensembles are held before school or at lunch times.

Lesson Structure

Each music lesson is broken into lesson segments that focus on elements of music, with longer older students. This reflects the as the interplay of pitch, rhythm, texture, timbre, and other rather than as a single element.

Teaching reflects the gradual responsibility model. Particularly younger students, the gradual responsibility will often be spread lessons for each skill that the

a number of different segments for nature of music harmony, elements, release of in the case of release of over several students learn.

Fisher, D., & Frey, N. (2008). Better learning through structured teaching: A framework for the gradual release of responsibility. Alexandria, VA: Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development.

Planning

- Planning should be based on the Victorian Curriculum and on the needs of the student cohort.
- Planning should take into account the learning that students are doing in other areas, including English, Mathematics and Inquiry learning, and links should be made wherever possible.

Assessment and Reporting

Students are assessed against the Victorian Curriculum. This information is conveyed to parents as part of each student's end of year report.

During Semester One a portfolio piece is explored by each student in a written reflection and then used during a student led conference involving parent, classroom teacher and student. A written and graded report is provided by the Music Teacher to each student towards the end of Semester Two.
